

OPIS Senior Meeting College Application Process

SENIORS please note -

1. If you currently attend OPIS you will be applying to college as an OPIS student - regardless if you are taking course or courses at OPHS or plan on returning to OPHS for the spring semester.
2. Please do not contact the OPHS counseling office for transcript request, counseling support, or college advice - you are an OPIS student and Mr. Rogers is available for all counseling needs. In addition, OPIS does not use Naviance in the same manner as OPHS for college applications (OPIS does not submit transcripts through Naviance)- please ask Mr. Rogers if you have any questions -he will be more than happy to discuss during the senior meeting.
3. If an OPIS Senior applies to a University in the fall, as an OPIS student, and then transfers to OPHS or a High School outside of OPUSD - it is the student's responsibility to contact any University that they applied to, with an update on current school of attendance.
4. OPIS seniors who attend all four years of high school within OPUSD (ie. attended OPHS or OPIS during their four years of high school) will only need to request a final transcript from the school they graduate from in May (ie. OPIS or OPHS), not both.
5. OPIS seniors who have attended any schools outside of OPUSD (including: other high schools or community colleges) will need to request transcript submissions directly from those high schools or community colleges at the time of a University requesting official transcripts.

Private Scholarships — DOs and Don'ts

Private scholarships are helpful resources that can reduce the financial burden on a family. However, they do require some work on the student's part. Here are some tips to share with your students as they search and apply for outside scholarships:

DO:

1. Start Early — The earlier the better. Students can begin searching early and should definitely apply complete and submit applications prior to the listed deadlines, which will vary.
2. Letters of Recommendation — These can definitely make a difference in an applicant's scholarship application. This also plays into the recommendation above; students want to start early in getting these to allow the writer adequate time to provide a stellar recommendation within the timeframe needed to apply for the scholarship.

3. Apply Often — The more scholarships students apply for the better their odds are of securing an award.
 4. Apply for Large and Small Awards — Many students focus on those large scholarship amounts, but they should also apply for as many smaller awards for which they meet the qualifications.
 5. Be Aware of Deadlines — Students should be organized and track scholarship requirements and deadlines.
 6. Scholarship Administrator Contact — Most scholarships announcements/applications will provide information on who is funding the scholarship along with a dedicated contact if there are questions about the scholarship.
1. Don't Get Discouraged — Much like the college application process, scholarship awarding is competitive and students should not let a denial discourage them.
 2. Don't Avoid Essay Requirements — Even if a student is not a strong writer, they should tackle scholarships that require essays. Beyond providing additional practice, this also broadens the types of scholarships for which they can compete.
 3. Don't Pay Fees — Scholarships that require fees to apply to are more than likely a scam. Students should steer clear of these.
 4. Don't Fall for the Too Good To Be True — Students may run into scholarships that guarantee an award or that inform them they are winners before they have applied. If it sounds too good to be true, it IS too good to be true. These click bait style tactics typically lead to scholarship and financial aid scams.

Reporting Community College courses/credits in your CSU application

College-Dual Enrollment Coursework Guidance Dual Enrollment or College Coursework
Many students in California expand their coursework beyond high school and take college coursework before graduating from high school.

Below provides some additional information on how courses are used in admission and how they should be reported within the CSU Application. What is considered a college course?

The CSU considers a college course, any course that will be reported on a college transcript. This is regardless of where the course is taught and if it is used for high school credit. A college course taught on the high school campus by an approved high school faculty member is still considered a college course.

How do students report dual enrollment/college courses for CSU admissions? Dual enrollment/college courses must be reported on the CSU application (Cal State Apply) as college courses. They should be reported under the appropriate college and cannot be reported on the application as high school coursework.

Once the college coursework is entered the student will need to match them to the appropriate “a-g” subject area.

Why is it important that students report college courses under the college? The Cal State Apply application is programmed to automatically provide students a full year of credit and one honors point for college coursework.

If students do not report college courses correctly, they will not be provided the full year of credit or honors point. How should high schools report dual enrollment courses?

Students who are offered admission to the CSU will be required to submit an official college transcript for all college coursework completed, including any courses taken through dual enrollment.

The high school decides what to include on the high school transcript. However, even if dual enrollment courses are reported on the high school transcript, students are still required to submit an official college transcript for their college coursework.
