Financial Aid Principles

• Financial Aid is designed to bridge the gap between what the school actually costs and what you can afford. Families should expect to pay a portion of the student’s college costs.

• Governmental Convention: To the extent that they are able, parents have the primary responsibility to pay for their dependent child’s education.

• Students also have a responsibility to contribute toward their educational expenses.

FAFSA REMINDERS

• Data is sent to all schools listed on the FAFSA

• Student must enter a California school first on the FAFSA for data to be sent to the California Student Aid Commission (CSAC) to determine if student is eligible for a Cal Grant

• Students will receive a Student Aid Report (SAR) once the FAFSA is completed

• Approximately 103 questions, of which only 29 are related to income and assets
Special Circumstances

• Cannot report on FAFSA

• Call the Financial Aid Office to determine institution’s policy on applying for a “Special Circumstance” – many will require a written explanation and additional documentation

• Reasons for submitting a Special Circumstance appeal
  – Change in employment status/high medical expenses/death of a parent
  – Student cannot obtain parent information
Reapplying Each Year

• You must complete a new FAFSA each year you intend to receive financial aid

• Since each FAFSA asks for the tax information from 2 year’s prior, your award can vary from year to year
Understanding College Costs

• Direct costs: Tuition, fees, housing, meals, etc.

• Indirect costs: Books, transportation, etc.

• Direct costs + Indirect costs = Cost of Attendance (COA)

• COA varies widely from college to college
Calculation of Financial Aid

Cost of Attendance
- Expected Family Contribution
= Financial Need

• Because COA varies widely from college to college, Financial Need will also vary depending on the college
Examples of Financial Need at California colleges/universities (2018-19 average costs)

- Cost of Attendance $61,599 (private university)
  - EFC 4,000
  Financial Need $57,599

  - EFC 4,000
  Financial Need $30,700

- Cost of Attendance $25,716 (CSU)
  - EFC 4,000
  Financial Need $21,716
