FRENCH REVOLUTION

LIBERTY, EQUALITY & FRATERNITY

• Began in 1790's, unfair taxation and inequality—worldwide crisis
  • Overthrow King Louis 16th & Marie Antoinette
  • Similar to King George
  • Americans believed we should help the French—similar to ours

FRENCH REVOLUTION

LIBERTY, EQUALITY AND FRATERNITY

• Executions of King Louis the 16th and Marie Antoinette in 1793.
  • Begins “Reign of Terror” during French Revolution where 40,000 opponents of the new govt. were beheaded.

• France goes to war against European kings
• France requested US ships to block West Indies from the British
• President Washington declared Neutrality and ordered Americans to avoid this war

WASHINGTON'S NEUTRALITY SPEECH

Whereas it appears that a state of war exists between Austria, Prussia, Sardinia, Great Britain and the United Netherlands, of the one part & France on the other; & the duty & interest of the U.S. require, that they should with sincerity & good faith adopt & pursue a conduct friendly & impartial toward the belligerent powers.
President Washington’s response to the French was to warn Americans to stay out of European conflicts and remain neutral or avoid.

Why?

President Washington faced several Indian problems.

British were supplying the tribes with arms and ammunition to attack US settlers.

Washington sent General "Mad Anthony" Wayne to defeat the Indian tribes.

Thomas Paine On Washington’s Neutrality

"And as to you, sir, treacherous in private friendship (for so you have been to me, and that in the day of danger) and a hypocrite in public life, the world will be puzzled to decide, whether you are an apostate or an importer; whether you have abandoned good principles, or whether you ever had any."
War in the Old Northwest Territory

Several tribes, led by Little Turtle of the Miamis, scored early victories (1790–91)

The Miamis were defeated at Fallen Timbers by General Mad Anthony Wayne (1794)

War in the Old Northwest Territory

Treaty of Greenville

• (1795) gave USA right to settle most of Ohio
• First formal recognition of Indian sovereignty over land not ceded by treaty

Jay’s Treaty

- To avoid war, Washington sent Chief Justice John Jay to London (1794).
- Jeffersonian’s concerned about Jay’s loyalty.
Conflicts with Britain

- British expected Americans to defend French West Indies, so attacked US merchant ships, seizing about 300
  - Impressed & imprisoned American sailors.
- Jeffersonians called for war
- Federalists resisted (financial system).

Jay's Treaty

- British remove forts from US soil
- British agreed but required US to pay old debts on pre-Revolution accounts.
- Allowed US to negotiate separate treaties with Indian tribes
- Opened westward expansion for US settlers.

Impressment

Impressment: an act of kidnapping a ship, its contents, men and forcing them into your navy—the British and French were doing this to us.
Jay's Treaty

- British agree to pay some damages, but required US to pay old debts on pre-Revolution accounts.
- Jeffersonian's felt treaty was surrender to Britain, betrayal of South (who had debts).
- Did not stop impressment.

John Jay is burnt in effigy because Americans believed he sold out to the British.

Jay's Treaty

- Jay's Treaty gave life to new Democratic-Republican party, tarnished Wash.'s popularity.
- Spain, fearing US-British alliance, gives US free use of Mississippi, disputed territory north of FL.

Spain cut off our farmers right to use the Mississippi River and deposit their crops in New Orleans.

Pinckney's Treaty: Spain gave US the free use of the Mississippi River for 5 yrs. and the boundary was set at 31° parallel between Spanish Florida and US. . . . .
Washington warned of the dangers of political parties and permanent alliances with other nations.

Washington’s warning against “entangling alliances” became a principle of U.S. foreign policy.

Europe has a set of primary interests which to us have none or a very remote relation. Our detached and distant situation invites and enables us to pursue a different course. It is our true policy to steer clear of permanent alliances with any portion of the foreign world. Taking care always to keep ourselves by suitable establishments on a respectable defensive posture, we may safely trust to temporary alliances for extraordinary emergencies.

1796

US ISOLATIONISM

• Farewell Address: 1. European Affairs, 2. permanent alliances, 3. political parties, 4. sectionalism
• Washington displayed this in 1793 by the Proclamation of Neutrality and his Farewell Address in 1796.
• No entangling alliances......US should avoid military alliances with Europe......continue to trade with Europe
• Neutrality = Isolation

Adams Becomes President

• Alexander Hamilton was the most famous Federalist but the controversy of the National Bank cost him the Presidency
  • John Adams elected in his place
  • Tension between Federalists and Democratic Republicans was at an all time high
• The French hated John Jay’s treaty
• Adams sends future Chief Justice John Marshall to France
  • Three French diplomats approached Marshall and demanded a bribe
  • Later becomes known as the X,Y, Z affair
